

Rocketsmiths - 'Man With A Gun!' single

From the "Parts, Pieces" EP

Playing a style of music that has been dubbed everything from "carnie rock" to "vaudevillian indie-rock popabilly", Rocketsmiths sound (and play) like no other band in Australia, and probably anywhere else either. Their thrilling new single, 'Man With A Gun!' is the sound of a band realising their full potential, musically and creatively. Produced and recorded by ARIA award-winning producer Magoo (Regurgitator, Operator Please, End Of Fashion, Kate Miller-Heidke) the "Parts, Pieces" EP has had music industry tongues wagging and the band's fanbase unable to contain their excitement. "Parts, Pieces" showcases the band's new sound, a unique mash up of indie rock, rockabilly and carnivalesque pop, a combination that is both engaging and entertaining, yet one that is built on solid songwriting skills...

'Man With A Gun!' is the second single from the band's acclaimed "Parts, Pieces" EP, (available now through MGM Distribution).

Having shared the stage with We Are Scientists (USA), Presidents of The United States of America (USA), Juliette & The Licks (USA), The Cruel Sea, The Panics, British India, The John Steel Singers, Yves Klein Blue, Bluejuice, The Gin Club, Little Red and The Boat People, as well as being booked for Sunset Sounds, The Valley Fiesta and Festival Of The Sun, Rocketsmiths are primed to launch their new single 'Man With A Gun' in Victoria, NSW and Queensland throughout June. Look for them at a venue near you!

"A Brisbane band with a big reputation, Rocketsmiths play rabble-rousing country punk at a break-neck speed. They careen through songs with a joyful kind of chaos, invoking outlaw twang through lo-fi garage rock with impulsive little spasms littering their madcap landscape. Think Dropkick Murphys by way of B52s and the Living End. Good times, rock and roll, etc." (Simone Ubaldi - Inpress)
